WELCOME TO VIETNAM

EXPLORE VIETNAM AND ITS GEOGRAPHY

Vietnam is a long, narrow nation shaped like the letter 's'. It is in Southeast Asia on the eastern edge of the peninsula known as Indochina and its neighbors include China to the North and Laos and Cambodia to the West. The East Sea lies to the East and South. The mountains of the Annam Cordillera rise over most of the western side of Vietnam, while a thousand-mile (1,600-kilometer) coastline dominates the east.

At its narrowest point, Vietnam is only 30 miles (48 kilometers) wide. Two of Vietnam's largest rivers, the Mekong in the south and the Red in the north, end at the East Sea in huge swampy plains called deltas. These regions are home to most of the country's people and provide fertile ground to grow rice and many other crops.

ECONOMY

Vietnam's GDP expanded 5.64 percent in the first half of the year, marking a jump from 1.82 percent in the same period a year ago according to Vietnam's General Statistics Office (GSO). The country is currently home to more than 80,000 foreign employees, a number which has been continuously rising over the years. Due to the country's robust economic development, it has become a preferred destination for foreign investors. Expats also named economic stability and work-life balance as the major factors keeping them here.

Expat communities have been formed such as South Korean groups in Hanoi's My Dinh area, Japanese groups in Ba Dinh district, and a Westerner community in Tay Ho district. Similarly, there are expat diasporas in some of Ho Chi Minh City's most popular areas, such as Phu My Hung in District 7 and Thao Dien in District 2. Most foreigners moving to Vietnam quickly adjust to the local way of life, feeling at home within the first few months of arriving. They feel welcomed and valued in their local communities due to the Vietnamese culture and social traditions.

Despite the effects of COVID-19, Vietnam's GDP grew at 2.91 percent and recorded positive growth in key areas of industrial activity.

In the first 11 months of 2020, foreign investors invested US$17 billion into Vietnam with a significant portion of these projects targeted at manufacturing, processing, real estate, and electricity production and distribution.

Efficiency gains and consumer demand were key components of Vietnam's investment attractiveness. Going forward, these could be supplemented by an expanding digital economy as well as Vietnam's participation in multiple regional and global trade agreements.

MONEY

The Vietnamese currency is known as 'Vietnam Dong', written as VND.

Bank notes are available in values of 1,000; 2,000; 5,000; 10,000; 20,000; 50,000; 100,000; 200,000, to 500,000 (equivalent US$23).

LIVING EXPENSES

The cost of living in Vietnam is roughly US$700 to US$1,400 per month with US$700 on the low end of the range and up to US$1,400 for mid-range expats. These average living costs are across many months—you may spend more getting set up, but many expats average US$1,000 per month.

EXPENSES	COST
Rent (Western-style 1-bedroom)	$250
Utilities (including fast Wi-Fi)	$70
Transportation (motorbike + gas, or monthly Grab bike)	$100
Food (mix of local & international)	$400
Extras (coffees, going out, daily small expenses)	$30
Mobile phone	$10
Total	$860

CLIMATE

Hanoi has a humid sub-tropical climate with four distinct seasons. The hottest and wettest months are May - September, with common afternoon/evening downpours and temperatures ranging from 30 - 33 degrees Celsius during the day to 25 degrees Celsius at night. Winters are comparatively cold and dry. The coolest months are December to March, with highs of around 20 degrees Celsius and lows of 13-15 degrees Celsius at night. However, some days may drop to below 10 degrees. Please check the Hanoi temperature before you arrive to avoid temperature shock. Please find the average temperature and rainfall in Hanoi throughout a year below for your information.

POPULAR TYPES OF VIETNAM VISAS

- Tourist visa (DL)
- Student/internship visa (DH)
- Visiting Relatives (TT)
- Others (VR)

VISA APPLICATION

Vietnam embassy visa (pre-arranged vietnam visa)

This kind of visa arrangement is highly recommended for exchange students

- Visit the website of the Vietnam embassy/consulate to check what they need to apply for the visa*;

* At this stage, BUV can support you with all documents that can be provided within our legal responsibilities.

- Complete the form, stick your photo there and sign it;

- Travel to the embassy/consulate of Vietnam to submit the form together with the original passport and other documents (as required) and pay the visa fee (you should call or email them for details before visiting the embassy);

- Travel back home and wait;

- Travel to the embassy/consulate again to receive the passport together with visa stamp.

- This whole process may take 3 to 5 working days. And it is available for both tourists and business travelers to Vietnam with a validity of up to 1 year. Vietnam visa costs of this kind vary by visa type and embassy as well.

 Please note that the decision to grant a visa for individuals is a government authority's decision, BUV cannot guarantee in any case that you can be granted the visa.

Visa on arrival

- Complete an application form online and pay for the service fee;

- Receive Visa approval letter (also known pre-approved letter) and the entry-and-exit application form delivered via email (within 02 working days);

- Get visa stamped upon arrival at one of Vietnam's international airports (in Hanoi, Ho Chi Minh City, Nha Trang, Da Nang, and Hai Phong) show your visa approval letter, completed entry and exit form, original passport, photos and pay for stamping fee to get visa stamped on your passport by Immigration Officer.

Apply for E-visa

CITIES' HIGHLIGHTS

HIGHLIGHTS OF HANOI

Culture and history are the key aspects of this 1000-year-old city. Walk the narrow historic streets of the Old Quarter which contains 36 streets, with shops selling everything from red candlesticks to lacquerware and water puppets, and then go for a stroll to take in the sights and sounds around Hoan Kiem Lake. The lake is the focal point of Hanoi life, especially on weekends. The Turtle Tower ('Tháp Rùa' in Vietnamese) was built in the 18th Century and is located in the centre of the lake, on a small island. You'll also find plenty of street traders, cafés, restaurants, tourist shops and art galleries in this historical area.

HIGHLIGHTS OF ECOPARK

Ecopark is an urban township development on the outskirts of Hanoi, in Hung Yen Province, Vietnam. Currently under development, Ecopark will expand to 500ha with an estimated investment capital of over US$8.2 billion. The entire development, divided into nine construction phases, is expected to be completed in an 18-year period.

The Ecopark urban area is located along the sides of the Bac Hung Hai River, a branch of the Red River and the Duong River; according to the designers, the structure represents the "prosperity" and the "security". With a number of bus slots per day with professional staff, Ecobus (buses provided by Ecopark) can serve all residents and visitors. They cover all city centre districts such as Ba Dinh, Dong Da, Thanh Xuan, Hoan Kiem, Tay Ho, Ha Dong, etc. with bus stops.

ESSENTIAL ITEMS FOR TRAVEL TO VIETNAM

- Passport
- Visa
- Offer letter from British University Vietnam Team
- Vietnamese dong (or you can exchange money at the airport). It is also easier to bring money to get exchanged since you usually get a better exchange rate for bigger notes.
- Driving license (or another identification document).
- All personal valuables: laptop, phone, camera, etc.
- Have photocopies of all your key travel documents in your main luggage

AIRPORT ARRIVAL

Before departure, you are required to have your multiple-entry student visa for Vietnam.

At the immigration desk, you will need to show your passport, which includes your visa for Vietnam. Please note that the queues are usually long at the immigration counter and generally slow moving. Just be patient and take the chance to do some people-watching! Normally, the immigration official may ask you some simple questions before stamping your passport. Your passport will be returned to you with a stamp from immigration if you meet the visa conditions.

Once through immigration, collect your bags at the baggage carousel. Trolleys are available for free. As you walk out to the arrivals area, you may need to present your baggage tickets which will be checked against the baggage labels on your suitcases and your bags may be X-rayed.

AIRPORT TRANSPORTATION

As an exchange student at BUUV, you will be welcome and provided with a free airport pick-up service on your arrival to Hanoi.

If you're a new exchange international student, please send an email to se-studentlife@buv.edu.vn for free airport pick up and let us know when you will arrive.

BUV Student Life department will then:

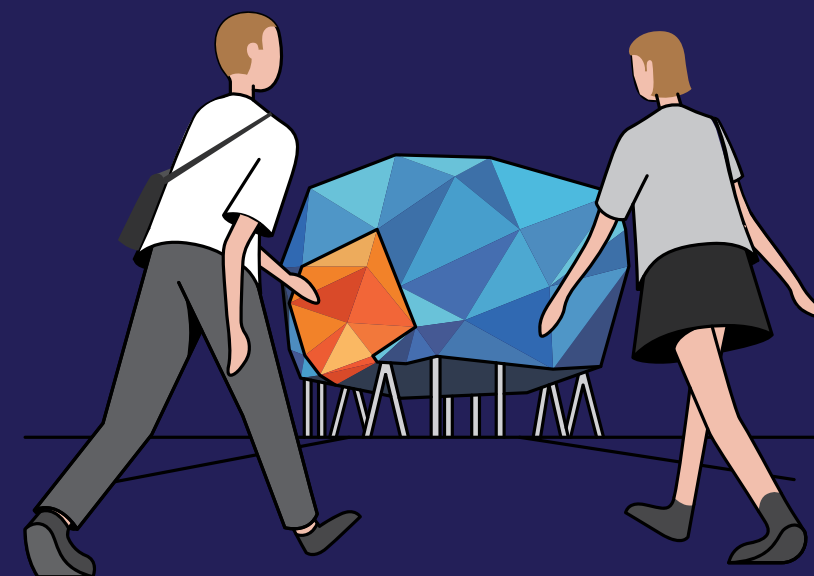

- Confirm your pre-arranged accommodation with the accommodation service;
- Arrange buddies to meet you at the airport when you arrive;
- Provide you with a welcome pack;
- Take you to your accommodation in Ha Noi or Ecopark.

If you're travelling with another student, please also give us clarification in the email.

The email needs to be sent at least five business days before you arrive. If there are changes to your arrival time within this five day period, please inform us via email as soon as you can.

CAMPUS LIFE

STUDENT LIFE AT GLANCE

The Student Experience Department is designed for enriching and unlocking student potential at the University alongside providing a vast array of opportunities to help students develop a path to explore their future-orientated options. Alongside this, the department aims to highlight the essential skills required to prepare them for life after college, grow as well-rounded individuals, and connect students to future career possibilities.

The department can be found hosting a wide range of extracurricular activities offered throughout the year to support students in growing as individuals, embracing diversity, exploring talents, cultivating leadership skills, and enhancing their emotional intelligence. All these efforts are put in place with the aim of building global citizens who engage in their local communities and contexts.

Student Association Committee

The Student Association Committee of the British University Vietnam hereafter referred to as the Student Association Committee ("SAC"). The Student Association Committee is the official representative body of the undergraduate students' interests and concerns. Said interests and concerns are exchanged in dialogues with university administration to enforce transparency, inclusivity, and co-efficiency for the sake of the student community. The Student Association Committee is thus formed by and works for the undergraduate students at British University Vietnam under the oversight of the Student Experience Department. The Student Association Committee is an affiliate of British University Vietnam and may represent itself publicly as such.

Clubs and Societies

BUV has various student-run clubs and societies. Participating in clubs or societies is a great way to sharpen your brain, learn new things, practice your leadership skills, and make friends who share your interests.

GLOBAL BUDDY PROGRAMME

This programme aims to deepen students’ understanding of themselves and other identities by fostering an understanding of various dimensions of culture and an appreciation of cultural and human differences. Global Buddy team is a group of BUV volunteers who dedicate their time and commitment to support international students with on and off-campus services. Buddies will be the first contact point prior to departure from your home country and will stay in contact with you for the whole exchange period. As local students, BUV buddies have strong knowledge and understanding about Vietnamese culture and will be a great hand to help you make the most of your time in Vietnam. Buddies will support international students to learn how to cope with cultural and social diversity and the nuances of Vietnamese culture. Together, they will explore how-to live-in harmony and connect within the community. The Global Buddy team organises activities for International Students together with BUV Student Life Team throughout your semester in Vietnam. The activities include:

AIRPORT PICKUP SERVICES	VIETNAMESE LANGUAGE CLASSES
INTERNATIONAL ORIENTATION	VIETNAMESE CULTURE SHARING
